Chapter 5

OCCUPANCY GUIDLINES

INTRODUCTION

The Occupancy Guidelines are established by the PHA to ensure that units are occupied by families of the appropriate size. This policy maintains the maximum usefulness of the units, while preserving them from excessive wear and tear or underutilization. This Chapter explains the Occupancy Guidelines used to determine minimum and maximum unit sizes for various sized families when they are selected from the waiting list, or when a family’s size changes, or when a family requests an exception to the occupancy guidelines. This is not to be confused with the PHA’s occupancy standards which is based in accordance with prevailing zoning and County building, health and fire codes.

A. DETERMINING UNIT SIZE

The PHA does not determine who shares a bedroom/sleeping room, but there must be at least one person per bedroom. The PHA’s Occupancy Guideline standards for determining unit size shall be applied in a manner consistent with Fair Housing guidelines, the federal Fair Housing Act, HRS 515, and HAR section 12-46-307.

For occupancy standards, an adult is a person 18 years or older.

All guidelines in this section relate to the number of bedrooms in the unit. Dwelling units will be so assigned that:

- One bedroom will generally be assigned for every two family members. The PHA will consider factors such as family characteristics including sex, age, or relationship, the number of bedrooms and size of sleeping areas or bedrooms and the overall size of the dwelling unit. Consideration will also be given for medical reasons and the presence of a live-in aide.

- Single person families shall be allocated one bedroom.

B. EXCEPTIONS TO WAITLIST GUIDELINES

The PHA will grant exceptions from the guidelines in cases where it is the family’s request or the PHA determines the exceptions are justified by the relationship, age, sex, health or disability of family members, or other individual circumstances, and there is a vacant unit available. If an applicant requests to be listed on a smaller or larger bedroom size waiting list, the following guidelines will apply:

- Applicants may request to be placed on the waiting list for a unit size smaller than designated by the occupancy guidelines, as long as the unit is not overcrowded according to local codes. The family must agree not to request a transfer until their family composition changes.

- For a three person family that includes two adults and an infant, the PHA may allow the family to lease a one bedroom unit in a desired general occupancy project.

- The PHA may offer a family a unit that is larger than required by the PHA’s occupancy standards, if the waiting list is short of families large enough to fill the vacancy. The family may request to be placed on a larger bedroom size waiting list than indicated by the PHA’s occupancy guidelines. The request must explain the need or justification for a larger bedroom size, and must be verified by the PHA before the family is placed on the larger bedroom size list. The PHA will consider these requests:
  - Person with Disability

    The PHA will grant an exception upon request as a reasonable accommodation for persons with disabilities if the need is appropriately verified and meets requirements in Chapter 1. E. Service and Accommodations Policy.

- All members of the family residing in the unit must be approved by the PHA. The family must obtain approval of any additional family member before the person occupies the unit except for additions by birth, adoption, or court-awarded custody, or where the child is domiciled with the family based on written or unwritten permission from the legal parent or other person having legal custody of a minor, such as a hanai relationship, or when the family is in the process of securing legal custody of a minor child or children and the child is or children are domiciled with the family, in which case the family must inform the PHA within seven (7) days.

- To avoid vacancies, the PHA may provide a family with a larger unit than the occupancy standards permit. The family must agree to move to a suitable smaller unit when another family qualifies for the larger unit and there is a suitable smaller unit available. This requirement is a provision of the lease.
C. ACCESSIBLE UNITS

The PHA has units designed for persons with mobility, sight and hearing impairments. These units were designed and constructed specifically to meet the needs of persons requiring the use of wheelchairs and persons requiring other modifications.

Preference for occupancy of these units will be given to families with disabled family members who require the modifications or facilities provided in the units.

No non-mobility-impaired families will be offered these units until all eligible mobility impaired applicants have been considered.

Accessible units will be offered and accepted by non-mobility impaired applicants only with the understanding that such applicants must accept a transfer to a non-accessible unit at a later date if a person with a mobility impairment requiring the unit applies for housing and is determined eligible.

D. FAMILY MOVES

When a change in the circumstances of a tenant family requires another unit size, the family’s move depends upon the availability of a suitable size and type of unit. If the unit is not available at the time it is requested, the family will be placed on the Transfer List.

The unit considerations in this section should be used as a guide to determine whether and when the bedroom size should be changed. If an unusual situation occurs, which is not currently covered in this policy, the case should be taken to the manager who will make determination after review of the situation, the individual circumstances, and the verification provided.

See chapter on Re-certifications for changes in unit size for tenants.
